Thai Wing Zapp

Thai Larb flavored and seasoned style party chicken wings. Deep fried and tossed. Preserving its warmth and seasoning, it is placed in the bag for your immediate or waited enjoyment.

2 Thai fried rice-Chicken/Shrimp

Thai Fried Rice, choose your protein

Jasmine rice begins the dish by frying it in a pan when all its ingredients are added quickly for a smoothly fused dish. The sauce used is a generationally crafted favorite and blast of flavor.

5 Orange chicken

Orange Chicken

Orange sauce with sesame seeds mixed in are the basting ingredients of crispy Thai style chicken breast nuggets. Laid on a bed of Jasmine rice, urging you to keep tasting every piece until it's gone.

Thai Tea (spoken, Chi Yen)

Tea leaves from the Massan valley create the core of this cold, creamy, and stout beverage. Specially brewed with added creamer to take the tea's edge off and create a silky smooth taste. Nothing compares to it except it's green relative.

Colder days, nights, and weeks provide unique and subtle challenges. Although Thailand rarely has the opportunity to experience the cold temperatures as they appear here, Thai Law's dishes will please any time. Warmth is added to each bite in mind and/or in physical form. Our seafood friends nearby offer the warm variety as well. Please help USA all bring some cheer this season.

Owner's note

"Tastes and familiarity may be different from what you have had in other places but once you try this version, you will not be disappointed. From a culture of mostly farmers, Thai Law's food represents the basic need of people and the use of pure, rich, and available as can be ingredients to help satisfy the hunger cravings."

Thai Eats to go

Choosing online to order food comes with a few ideas to keep in mind.

1. Read the descriptions to ensure you are getting what you are imagining, feel free to call if you are having questions.
2. Select your spice level to ensure you are getting the correct spice.
3. It must get from here to there, some deliverers show more concern than others.

Thai Law has decided to downsize operations and put its event trailer up for sale. We are however always interested to hear from others what the feel is for the service, food, or looks are in any form. Most widely appreciated neck and neck with Google and Door Dash reviews. Please post a response any way you can find time or place to do so.

It's a must to urge the public to realize one major thing when it comes to ordering restaurant food and drinks. <If you are after something fast or quick, you may be better served at a place like McDonalds. If you truly want an authentic taste and authentic service, Thai Law's food represents is that place.>

Until quickness and authenticity can be found together, discovery.

Two people serving many is a blessing and challenging. It may help to find out, or get an indication, about a wait on current orders. There may be no wait, there may be some wait. You can ask.
